Vessel Seeking Shelter From Typhoon Gilda

HONG KONG (AP)-Nationalist Chinese guns raked the German freighter Monika, seeking shelter from Typhoon Gilda off the China coast, although her flag was clearly visible, the West German consulate charged to-

The Defense Ministry in Taipei fired warning shots at an unidentified ship west of Quemoy Sat-urday—when the Monika was under attack. But it asserted the shots fell well clear of the vessel.

The Monika's first mate, Hans Mayer, declared earlier that Chinese Communists had fired the hots which killed an officer and wounded two crewmen. The ship's captain, Ewald Dilara, said later it was the Nationalists, and the consulate confirmed his version.

A consulate spokesman said the Monika — en route from Hong Kong to Japan with a nonstrategic cargo-gave normal identification signals and hoisted her flag when within 11/2 miles of Ta Tan, biggest of the Tan island group near Quemoy, and Amoy.

Ships' officers said the 1,106-ton Monika ran into some 300 rounds of fire and took 10 direct hits as she headed for Amoy Harbor. Normally, the consulate said ships seeking cover from storms are permitted by the Nationalists to enter Amoy Harbor. Mayer had said the shots came from artillery hidden in the hills of Communist-held Amoy. A con-sulate spokesman said the confusion arose because the Monika's officers were unfamiliar with the military situation in the area. The Tan Islands lie only a few thousand yards from the mainland. Their guns have virtually cut Amoy off from the outside

16th Polio Case In Parish This Year Reported

Howard Ray Fuller, one-year-old son of Steve Fuller, 403 Sixth street, is confined to the Shreveport polio center with paralytic polio, Dr. W. Carroll Summer, director of the parish health unit, released Monday.

Young Fuller is the 16th police victim this year.

There were 33 polio victims at this date in 1955 with the last case last year - No. 34 - was reported to the health unit September 26, Dr. Summer stated.

The health unit director said that the advent of fall traditionally marks the close of the polio season for the South. This year the first case of polio was reported during January with a skip until July when four persons were victims of the crippling disease. August took the greatest toll polio-wise with pine cases reported while two have occurred in September thus far, present law dealings with the re-Dr. Summer listed.

Fort Polk Soldier Killed Near Ruston

RUSTON, Sept. 24 (Special) — A Fort Polk soldier identified as James S. Bell, of Steubenville, Ohio, died when the car he was driving plunged over a 20-foot embankment into a barrow pit on U. S. Highway 167 about four miles south of here Sunday night. A companion, Private First Class Joe Glen Robinson, is in a Ruston hospital, where hospital officials said he is suffering from severe shock, leg injuries and multiple cuts and bruises. According to a statement from Robinson, Bell had made a weekend journey somewhere in southern Arkansas to take an engagement ring to his fiance. The two soldiers were due at Fort Polk at midnight Sunday, and were apparently behind schedule when the accident occurred at about 11 p.m., police authorities said.

Robinson's wife, Mrs. Margie Faye Robinson, lives in Coy, in Lonoke county, Ark. Authorities from the Lincoln parish sheriff's office said Bell apparently failed to turn sharply enough The car ran off the left shoulder of the road, brushed against the bannister on a bridge, chipping off small amount of concrete, and plunged into about 20 feet of water. Robinson was either thrown from he car into the water or he got out of the car after it stopped, the sheriff said. He swam to the bank and stood on the side of the road, waiting for help.

First to the scene of the accident was Barrett Gremillion, of Pineville, followed by Billy Brown, a Louisiana Tech student, who took Robinson to the Ruston hospital. While en route to Ruston, Robinson told Brown about his companion.

State police, members of the Lincoln parish sheriff's department, and Ruston firemen immediately began a search for the wreckage and for additional victims.

2 Dead, 47 Left Clinging To Gulf Ships

Thousands Are Driven From Plaquemines

NEW ORLEANS — UP — Hurricane Flossy left two dead and a trail of foundered ships in the Gulf today and thundered across open water in the direction of the Alabama-Florida coast with winds of 100 miles an hour.

At least 47 persons were clinging to ships or oil drilling rigs in the storm - tormented waters of the Gulf. Flossy sideswiped New Orleans, 65 miles northwest of her middle, without causing major damage to the fun-loving old town.

The latest advisory on the hurricane, issued by the New Orleans weather bureau at 11 a.m. placed Flossy's center 80 miles southwest of Pensacola, Fla. The howler was moving to the east-northeast at 12 miles an hour. The year's sixth tropical hurriane drove thousands from their omes in Plaquemines parish, the low finger pointed to the sontheast on the Louisiana coast, and in Mississippi. One crew member drowned and another died trying to save him when Flossy raked the motor vessel Carport. Eighteen men and two women rode out the storm an the ship 40 miles off the southern tip of Plaquemines. The weather bureau predicted the main force of the blow would smack the coast between Pensacrola and Apalachicola, Fla., this afternoon or tonight.

Highest winds were concentrated near the center but gales howled for 150 miles outward. "There is a large squall area off the extreme northwest Florida coast which is causing winds to blow offshore, holding back the tide," the weather bureau said.

This creates a dangerous situation since the hurricane winds will suddenly shift and may cause a "This situation exists all the way from Pensacola to St. Marks."

R. C. BROWN

Mr. Brown says our business like all business, to stand the test of time had to be founded on a solid foundation. In starting in the clothing business we wanted to be of service to the entire family, mother, dad, and all the kids both boys and girls. We decided and children. We know, too, that many families would find it much omre convenient to buy clothing for members of their family on one charge account and pay for them out of their income. Tens of thousands of families buy their clothing year after year from R.

C. Brown, 335 DeSiard. There are many reasons why they do. First, we handle quality merhcandise of the latest styles and quality for quality our prices are as low as you will find anywhere. Our terms are tailor made to fit each individual customer. In other words, how they want to pay for their purchase and when. And be-lieve me a lot of them take many months. Wherever water flows, there is the quiet, continuous build-up of minerals and salts that chokes pipes and lines, stifles heating efficiency, booms fuel costs, and shortens the life of equipment. Until recently the only way of fighting rust, scale and corrosion was through the use of expensive chemicals and acids; shutdowns for cleaning and the use of extra manpower for maintenance and repair. For the first time, an effective method of combating these problems has been developed : . . The Packard Water Conditioner.

This revolutionary water conditioner, when installed in a water supply line, prevents formation of scale deposits by changing the physical structure of the dissolved minerals or salts from crystals to an amorphous powder. It also removes existing scale and prevents corrosion. The Packard Water Conditioner is essentially a kinetic energy generator which supplies the external force necessary to disturb the magnetic linkage between the outer ring electrons of the atoms in the molecules of the various dissolved minerals and saits in water and water - fluid systems and orient their magnetic fields in one common direction.

As a result the molecules of minerals and salts lose their ability to settle out as scale. The Packard Water Conditioner

The Socialist Labor Party

Almost apologetically a major broadcasting company carried the acceptance speeches of the presidential and vice-presidential candidates of the American Socialist-Labor party on a recent evening. Before the speeches, the announcer explained this was required by a rule of the Federal Communications Commission. It was pointed out that since the major parties' candidates had spoken, it was only fair to grant equal privileges to other legally constituted parties.

The party principles presented by both speakers were radical to the point of being "crack-pot." The vice-presidential candidate-a woman from Wisconsin-ripped into the capitalistic system on a broad historical front. Her theme was the "exploitation" of the working class by the "money-masters." Not a word was said about the position of strength from which labor now finds itself able to bargain. Nothing was mentioned about the number of working people in this country whose money serves as dividend-paying capital by means of stocks and bonds. Complete government ownership of all business and industry is the only solution to the "ills of capitalism" according to the Socialist-Labor party.

The presidential candidate went so far as to include the race issue in his list of the results of capitalism. It was his contention that there was no historical basis for racial prejudices before the age of the wealthy classes. While his running mate simply left the virtues of our present system unsaid the presidential candidatespeaking in a well-tutored voice—deliberately misrepresented in this case. The Bible, as well as any number of archeological studies, cites many instances where one people did not get along with another. At the time of Christ, the Jews and the Samaritans had nothing to do with one another, and neither group enjoyed any sort of financial supremacy. Racial differences do cause problems in the United States—the "melting pot of nations"—which sometimes require a rather high melting point. But the seeds of this strife cannot be blamed on the differences among our financial

This party supports principles which seem to constitute an attack on the United States from without. In all probability, there is some legal loophole which allows it to peddle its goods at all. We can take advantage of such abuses of free speech by learning what the radicals are proposing so that we can steer clear.

tion when he undertook to interpret George Washington to the American people in the light of scholarly research. A twig on the Washington family tree, Hughes, without detracting from Washington's essential greatness, tried to show him as a man's man with the appetites and urges of men common to that period.

The majority of the American people thought that an outrage. They reacted against an author who dared to attribute earthiness to an idol.

In line with the family strain, Hughes acquired quite a military record during his active years. He was a member of the National Guard, a leader for preparedness, fought on the Mexican border and showed himself to be a capable military strategist in Army Intelligence during World War I.

America sees all too few of the people of this type who are tightly wound up and translate their energies into superior performance in many fields. His imprint on the American scene will long endure.

Sky's The Limit

Jobs are becoming fancier all the time The authority for this is a big Texas extrovert named Lon Barton, who now holds forth in Chicago, where he runs an employment agency. The term "job hunting" has been replaced by the more realistic phrase. "man hunting," he says.

He has a dozen jobs on file paying $100,000 a year, by way of illustration. Hundreds of jobs seeking the man pay from $10,000 to $50,000 a year. His agency has listings of 50,000 jobs paying from $3,000

Many persons do not realize how job opportunities have sprouted recently, he points out. The man in the $7,000 to $10,-000 bracket who has not looked around recentely doesn't realize what he may be missomeone willing to pay him three of four times that figure.

Or $100,000, perhaps.

As You Sow, So...

Let's let a bit of romance invade these editorial musings.

Remember when the way of a man with a maid was to write her name along with his on a fence, a building, or perchance in a school book? Remember the initials carved in a tree, usually enclosed in a heart? There were even those who had a beloved's name tattooed on an arm, although many such wishes later they hadn't.

Now comes a new twist to this type of romancing. a handsome young pitcher from Bucknell University, one of the first "educated" players in profes-sional baseball, developed a little droop on the end of his inshoot. Christy Mathewson had an acute commercial sense. He, or possibly a sport writer, called this pitch the fadeaway and this label on a standard, wholesome and familiar hook made a fortune for the owners of the New York Glants and other properties in the National League and a very decent wage for Matty. The official encyclopedia of baseball, an awesome attic of old furniture, dress - forms and fishpoles, solemnly states that the fadeaway

I suppose Hy Turkin, who amassed this compendium, meant to say that the screwball is today's version of the fadeaway because the screwball was not heard of until long after Matty was gone. The fact that a ball does curve sharply in flight was challenged by eminent scholars until the turn of this century. My own skeptical sneers at the riser have been stilled only by solemn assurances of honorable catchers that some pitchers, notably Dizzy Dean, could make a to overcome the organization or downer that just "rolls off the work that will be done against table" after the hitter has com-

The Chicago American had the honor to announce the exclusive publication of "A Bride and a Pennant" by Frank Le Roy Chance, the peerless leader of the Cubs. Mr. Pancake was excused from police, undertakers' shops and all such duties until he had produced enough instalments of "A Bride and a Pennant" to run the course. For eight years — the Texas Gas pipeline system has been serving the Big River Region. In this short period — Texas Gas has fueled increasingly healthy business throughout this vital eight-state area.

Since 1948, industrialists and homeowners in just the 130 countries of the Big River Region served by Texas Gas have spent more than $3 billion for plant and home construction. Our total investment has been nearly a quarter of a billion dollars, including $24 million this year alone. Our payroll, costs of materials, etc., pour into the Region another $7 million dollars annually, most of it spent right where we work and live.

Industry to the tune of millions of dollars has found the Region the ideal place to locate. More plants, more investments will follow - drawn by the advantages the Region offers for industrial growth, for living. Texas Gas tells this story to industrialists everywhere, every day, and is convincing many that the Big River Region is where they want to expand.

The past has been good. The future looks better. Our continual, ever-increasing reinvestment in the Big River Region best shows our confidence reached the point where Mr. Eisenhower has had to resume a diet. He is now theoretically limited to 2,500 calories a day, although he may go over this on occasion at campaign picnics and banquets.

His physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, would like to see ceremonial eating held to a minimum, but this is not always possible for a man seeking re-election.

About the time Mr. Eisenhower turns 66 next month, he will undergo another full-scale physical examination. It will be conducted all or in part at the Walter Reed Army Medical Center here where Mr. Eisenhower has gone for previous checkups and where he underwent surgery for ileitis last

The Socialist Labor Party

Almost apologetically a major broadcasting company carried the acceptance speeches of the presidential and vice-presidential candidates of the American Socialist-Labor party on a recent evening. Before the speeches, the announcer explained this was required by a rule of the Federal Communications Commission. It was pointed out that since the major parties' candidates had spoken, it was only fair to grant equal privileges to other legally constituted parties.

The party principles presented by both speakers were radical to the point of being "crack-pot." The vice-presidential candidate-a woman from Wisconsin-ripped into the capitalistic system on a broad historical front. Her theme was the "exploitation" of the working class by the "money-masters." Not a word was said about the position of strength from which labor now finds itself able to bargain. Nothing was mentioned about the number of working people in this country whose money serves as dividend-paying capital by means of stocks and bonds. Complete government ownership of all business and industry is the only solution to the "ills of capitalism" according to the Socialist-Labor party.

The presidential candidate went so far as to include the race issue in his list of the results of capitalism. It was his contention that there was no historical basis for racial prejudices before the age of the wealthy classes. While his running mate simply left the virtues of our present system unsaid the presidential candidatespeaking in a well-tutored voice-deliberately misrepresented in this case. The Bible, as well as any number of archeological studies, cites many instances where one people did not get along with another. At the time of Christ, the Jews and the Samaritans had nothing to do with one another, and neither group enjoyed any sort of financial supremacy. Racial differences do cause problems in the United States-the "melting pot of nations"—which sometimes require a rather high melting point. But the seeds of this strife cannot be blamed on the differences among our financial

This party supports principles which seem to constitute an attack on the United States from without. In all probability. there is some legal loophole which allows it to peddle its goods at all. We can take advantage of such abuses of free speech by learning what the radicals are proposing so that we can steer clear.

tion when he undertook to interpret George Washington to the American people in the light of scholarly research. A twig on the Washington family tree, Hughes, without detracting from Washington's essential greatness, tried to show him as a man's man with the appetites and urges of men common to that period.

The majority of the American people thought that an outrage. They reacted against an author who dared to attribute earthiness to an idol.

In line with the family strain, Hughes acquired quite a military record during his active years. He was a member of the National Guard, a leader for preparedness fought on the Mexican border and showed himself to be a capable military strategist in Army Intelligence during World War I.

America sees all too few of the people of this type who are tightly wound up and translate their energies into superior performance in many fields. His imprint on the American scene will long endure.

Sky's The Limit

Jobs are becoming fancier all the time. The authority for this is a big Texas extrovert named Lon Barton, who now holds forth in Chicago, where he runs an employment agency. The term "job hunting" has been replaced by the more realistic phrase. "man hunting," he says.

He has a dozen jobs on file paying $100,000 a year, by way of illustration. Hundreds of jobs seeking the man pay from $10,000 to $50,000 a year. His agency has listings of 50,000 jobs paying from $3,000

During the same period of years, a handsome young pitcher from Bucknell University, one of the first "educated" players in professional baseball, developed a little droop on the end of his inshoot. Christy Mathewson had an acute commercial sense. I suppose Hy Turkin, who amassed this compendium, meant to say that the screwball is today's version of the fadeaway because the screwball was not heard of until long after Matty was gone. The fact that a ball does curve sharply in flight was challenged by eminent scholars until the turn of this century. Justified or not, this feeling is particularly strong in Southern states, where four years ago many life-long Democrats to whom the political label "Republican" is anathema nevertheless voted for the GOP national ticket because they were fed up with 20 years of creeping socialism under the New and Fair Deals.

Now, after nearly four years of President Eisenhower's "progres-sive Republicanism," these Southern conservatives feel thoroughly disillusioned and equally let down. They concede that fellow-be-lievers in the traditional American free enterprise have been installed in many of the government's top positions, but that is as far as their concessions go. VICTIM OF ARCHER—William Edward Allen, 20, in critical condition after being wounded under the right shoulder by a mysterious archer using a 16-inch steel-tipped arrow, receives a blood transfusion at a Los Angeles hospital. Comforting him is his sister, Mrs. Georgia Murray. Allen, a liquor store clerk, was on duty when struck from the rear by the arrow which was fired from about 50 feet through an open rear door of the store. Officers said no attempt was made to rob the store. (AP Wirephoto.)

Big River Region. In this short period - Texas Gas has fueled increasingly healthy business throughout this vital eight-state area.

Since 1948, industrialists and homeowners in just the 130 countries of the Big River Region served by Texas Gas have spent more than $3 billion for plant and home construction. Our total investment has been nearly a quarter of a billion dollars, including $24 million this year alone. Our payroll, costs of materials, etc., pour into the Region another $7 million dollars annually, most of it spent right where we work and live.

Industry to the tune of millions of dollars has found the Region the ideal place to locate. More plants, more investments will follow - drawn by the advantages the Region offers for industrial growth, for living. Texas Gas tells this story to industrialists everywhere, every day, and is convincing many that the Big River Region is where they want to expand.

The past has been good. The future looks better. Our continual, ever-increasing reinvestment in the Big River Region best shows our confidence

Supplementary Pasture Bolstered By Irrigation

GIRARD, Sept. 23—A contour border irrigation system which was put into use on 35 acres of supplementary pasture—Sudan grass with some Bermuda in spots—has given a boost to thirsty plants.

The system laid out on the E. S. | per acre. Parrish believes, he here by the Richland Parish Soil Conservation Service, was placed in operation for the first time about two weeks ago, according to James Parrish, who manages the place. Grass which was even with the ground when the water first started flowing, made good growth within the next few days.

The irrigation setup is served by a deep well with water being pumped at the rate of 512 gallons a minute. Forty - eight head of steers are being run on it, and plans call for planting oats on the land within the next month after the cattle have grazed it down. Parrish said. The full grazing fare on the supplementary pasture will consist of vetch and singletary peas in addition to oats.

Mrs. Bessie Pair, a 32-year-old trimmer for a hat company, reliterated last night that an operation must be performed, and the sooner the better.

She pointed out that on Sept. 12 doctors said that a few days delay in reaching a decision about an operation wouldn't matter. But that was 10 days ago, she said, "and now I'm growing frantic." Her divorced husband Arnold Pair, a 33-year-old machine operator, opposed the operation at first on the grounds he wanted Johnny to retain his sight as long as possible.

Later he said he would announce a decision after the morning service at the East Atlanta Baptist Church yesterday. He did not appear at the church. Later he said he still had not reached a decision.

QUESTION: When my husband and I were married, we both were Christians and went to church each Sunday. We now live in a suburb where our neighbors spend the week ends in sports and trips and we have been doing the same thing. We are miserable. W. E.

ANSWER: You should thank God that you are miserable. He is speaking to you through your conscience, down deep in your heart, ou know you have exchanged solid things which last for tinsel and temporary pleasure. Trips and sports have their rightful place in our lives, but when they take the place of church attendance and spiritual things in general, they are snare and bring only disillusionment and sorrow. I know so many people who are in your predicanent. I know others who were living as you are but who came to realize that life is more than recreation and a good time and who have started putting first things lumbia University, author of the first in their lives. Today they are study, says the sharp decrease is radiant with the joy Christ brings to hearts surrendered to Him. I have the idea that a lot of the couples around you are just as miserable as you are. They may not know the cause, but God is giving you an opportunity not only to correct the mistake you have made but also to lead them to see that life is far more than any of them now know. If you put Christ first in your personal lives, in your home, with your children and in the center of your church life, you will find that joy will supplant unhappiness and that the meaning of this life, and the one to come, becomes clear and bright. It will take moral courage to make the break and take the right step, but you will never regret it.

Answer To Question No. 3
3. Give them scientific toys (Science in Industry," by DuPont). Opportunities are unlimited, if you gain their interest. At present, about 68,000 science and engineering graduates come from colleges and universities each year. However, there are far more opportunities than that right now, and the needs for the years ahead will be even greater. If technical training is made available to our young people of today, and if they are encouraged to take advantage of it, their progress - and the nation's -need have no bounds.

Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew law burgh 8-3. If the Dodgers can check the Pirates in the ninth of the resumed game tonight, then go on to defeat Bob Friend in the regularly scheduled game, they will regain the lead.

The Braves and third-place Cincinnati are idle.

The Braves' half-game lead was made possible by their 7-4 victory over Chicago. Cincinnati bounded back into the pennant fight by sweeping a double-header from St. Louis 3-2 and 5-4 to climb within one game of Brooklyn. In another National League game, Philadelphia downed the New York Giants 6-2. The New York Yankee, who have already clinched the American League flag, defeated Bostor 7-4. Detroit trimmed Cleveland 11-1, Baltimore blanked Washing ton 6-0 and Kansas City and Chi cago divided a double-header. 'The White Sox won the second game

5-1 after losing the opener 3-2. Billy Bruton, a .194 hitter is September, broke loose with fou hits, including the first grand-slam homer of his professional career to lead the Braves to victory ove the Cubs. Bob Buhl, knocked ou in five previous starts, was cred ited with his 18th triumph a though he needed help from Gen Conley in the eighth. The Dodgers snapped a 3-3 ti

(UP)-Fred Hawkins of El Paso, minor complication. Tex., overcame Gardner Dickinson Jr., of St. Petersburg, Fla., Sunday to win top money in the $15,000 Oklahoma City Open golf in newspapers." tournament with a 72-hole, nine under par 279 score.

Hawkins, who was three strokes behind at the end of 54 holes, carded a three-under-par 35-34--69 Sunday over the cool, windy Twin Hills Country Club course. He pocketed $2,400 as his prize.

Dickinson, who led the field into the final 18 holes with a nine Jinder par 207, had bogey trouble on the first nine Sunday and came into the club house with a twoover-par 38. On the back nine the slender 29-year-old Floridian, protege of Ben Hogan, gained a par

Hawkins, 33, who has won over 22,000 on the pro circuit this year, turned the scoring his way when he sank a four-foot putt for a birdie four on the long 449-yard par five 13th hole to match Dickinson's seven-under-par card at that time.

Hawkins, playing very intensely, had a birdie three on No. 15 and sent home a 30-foot putt for a birdle four on No. 16 to go in

" Dickinson chipped to four feet of the pin on No. 16 but still amazingly bright and cheermissed his putt and took a five. He won $1.800.

Two Oklahoma City golfers -Jimmy Gauntt, pro at Twin Hills, and Bud Ecton—finished in a tie for third with 72-hole totals of 283 -two over par. Their eforts hrought them $1,300 each.

Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., mid-way tourney leader who was one stroke behind Dickinson at the start of Sunday's round, and Bill 'Casper of Chula Vista, Calif., tied for fourth place with 284s. They *split $1,800.

Bob Toski, Holyoke, Mass., first round leader in the field of 135, and Bob Rosburg of San Francis-.co finished even for fifth place with totals of 286, and got $650

Old River Channel Contract Is Let For Dredging Work

Dredging on the outflow channel of the Old River control project in Catahoula parish was slated to have begun last week, following the awarding of a $2,316,860 contract by the U.S. Army corps of engineers. The operation will call for the removal of approximately 13,400,000 cubic yards of materials and will be completed in 400 calendar days.

Congressman Otto E. Passman of the Fifth Congressional district, announced the letter of the contract over the week end.

Representative Passman, a congressional leader in furthering lower Mississippi valley flood - control activities, said the contract was awarded to McWilliams Dredging Company, a division of Williams-McWilliams Industries, Inc., of New Orleans.

The contract calls for excavation work to begin at approximate mile 10.0 on Red river and progress in a stolen Communist plane in eastwardly for three miles. Conorganized.
